JONATHAN DANIEL CLEMENTS	)

Comes now the living man, Jonathan Daniel Clements, by special appearance and not general appearance, in propria persona, without waiver of any rights, and issues this formal affidavit of challenge, motion to dismiss with prejudice, and declaration of lawful standing under ecclesiastical and international law.

I. FOUNDATION OF ECCLESIASTICAL AND LEGAL STANDING

Affiant is the Living Trustee and Sovereign Executor of the Ecclesiastical Sovereign Private Trust of Humanity (ECC-TRUST-JDC-005), duly formed, ratified, sealed, and acknowledged under ecclesiastical law, Lex Divina, and recognized principles of international and private trust law. This trust has been lawfully filed in public and private record, acknowledged by ecclesiastical authority and notary, and is governed by divine law, outside the scope of civil regulatory control.

II. OBJECTION TO VENUE AND CHALLENGE TO SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION

This court lacks both subject matter jurisdiction and personal jurisdiction. No valid contract exists between the living man and the STATE OF ARKANSAS. No injured party has been identified. The Defendant is not engaged in commerce. The vehicle in question is held in private ecclesiastical trust and is not used for public hire or commercial gain.

Absent a verifiable affidavit of harm, injury, or contract, any action taken under color of law constitutes constructive fraud and abuse of process. Jurisdiction is challenged at every level: territorial, subject matter, and personal. Any attempt by this court to proceed forward, absent a rebuttal by affidavit, constitutes default and violation of fundamental rights.

III. FEDERAL, INTERNATIONAL, AND HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS

Every act of enforcement executed in this matter, from unlawful arrest to towing of a private trust vehicle, constitutes a violation of:

- The First, Fourth, Fifth, and Fourteenth Amendments of the U.S. Constitution
- The Universal Declaration of Human Rights (Articles 6, 8, 9, 10, 11)
- 42 U.S. Code §§ 1983, 1985, and 1986 (Civil Rights Statutes)
- 18 U.S. Code §§ 241 and 242 (Conspiracy and Deprivation of Rights)
- Treaty of Peace and Friendship (1787)
- Hague Convention on Private International Law
- Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations

IV. NO CORPUS DELICTI - NO CRIME

No evidence of a crime has been presented. No human being has issued a verified claim of injury. The charges are administrative in nature and have no legal force absent consent. A citation issued in commerce to a living man, without a verified claim of damage, is null and void.

V. CONTROLLING CASE LAW AND PRECEDENT

- Hale v. Henkel, 201 U.S. 43 (1906): Individual is sovereign and cannot be compelled to contract.
- Bond v. United States, 564 U.S. 211 (2011): Individuals have standing to challenge violations of constitutional authority.

- Watson v. Jones, 80 U.S. 679 (1871): Courts have no jurisdiction over ecclesiastical matters.

VI. DEMAND FOR IMMEDIATE DISMISSAL WITH PREJUDICE

Affiant demands the immediate dismissal of all charges in this matter. The Court is hereby placed on Notice: proceeding without rebutting this affidavit by sworn affidavit shall constitute agreement, and a waiver of any claim to jurisdiction. The matter is ecclesiastical, non-commercial, and has no place in a civil tribunal.

VII. CONCLUSION AND RESERVATION OF RIGHTS

All rights reserved, none waived. The undersigned reserves the right to pursue civil and criminal claims under federal and international law if further harassment or fraudulent prosecution continues. All officers involved are now officially on notice and may be summoned to answer in higher courts.
